

Interpreting Major Progressions Class 4

Love, Romance, and Marriage

What We Look for in Love

“The first time you marry for love, the second for money, and the third for companionship.”

Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis

COMPATIBILITY

“Perhaps there is no department of life in which the doctrine of signatures plays a more important part than in our association with others. The centers of energy within the astral body of each person are radiating energy. Some of these centers radiate harmonious energy and some of them radiate discordant energy. Thus when we come in close contact with another person our astral bodies receive the impact of these vibrations, and our centers of energy are greatly stimulated. But the manner in which they are stimulated depends, in great measure, not merely upon the harmony of these centers considered separately, but upon the natural harmony or discord that obtains between the centers of energy in one person’s astral body as related to the centers of energy in the astral body of the other person. A comparison of birth charts indicates quickly just how one person will affect another if they become closely associated, and in just what department of life, and how, the harmony or discord will manifest.”

Astrological Signatures – C. C. Zain

“The one thing that should ever be remembered in this effort is that PLEASURE IS ATTRACTIVE AND PAIN IS REPELLENT.”

Occultism Applied – C. C. Zain

From the astrological perspective we are attracted to, and feel compatibility with those persons with whom we share similarities, and who stimulate the harmony within our chart.

We are repelled by those persons with whom we have too great of dissimilarities, and who stimulate the discords in our chart.

“Not only do people grow after marriage, but they should grow. Unfortunately one may grow in one direction and the other in a different way. If, therefore, they do not have a mutual intense interest they should select something for both to become interested in. It is even more essential in later life, when the passions seem less important and the early problems have been solved, that husband and wife should have something that both delight in to discuss and work for. It is mental compatibility that lends the finest flavor to domestic existence.”

PARTNERSHIP

The 7th house with its power, harmony or discord determines in general the kind of partners that are attracted into the life. The 7th house ruler and its aspects determine how the partner will affect the life.

“PARTNERSHIP—The stellar cells and stellar structures mapped by the 7th house, their harmony or discord and the intensity of their activity, as well as the general quality, determine the kind of partners in general that are attracted into the life. If Saturn is in the 7th, all partners will tend to be serious and cold; if Jupiter is there they will tend to be jovial and benevolent; if the Sun occupies this house they will tend to dignity and importance. Thus from the planet in the 7th, or less precisely from the ruler of the cusp of the 7th, can be gauged the general type of partner which the individual will have.”

Interpreting Major Progressions Class 4

If afflicted the partner may attract experiences with compulsion, conformity, obsessions, and group influences

Importance of the 7th House

"In judging the influence of any department of life, every aspect to the ruling planet should be taken into consideration, not merely as a harmony or discord, but as indicating a definite kind of condition which arises from the department of life which the other planet rules. It should be considered as an opportunity, an obstacle, friction, luck, agitation, etc., arising from the department indicated by the house position and rulership of the planet making the aspect, which tends to influence the department of life being considered in this definite way.

Thus must the partnership be judged to influence, and be influenced by, every planet making an aspect to the ruler of the 7th." Delineating the Horoscope – C. C. Zain

Uranus, Neptune and the 7th House

"As a rule either Uranus or Neptune, in so far as they are involved in it, tend to disrupt marriage and bring separation. In the 7th house there are instances when exceptionally well aspected in which they bring the finest type of marriage relations. But even in such cases the circumstance of the union are decidedly unusual. The cusp of the 7th merely being occupied by Aquarius or Pisces, however, is not so drastic."

Delineating the Horoscope – C. C. Zain

"Any aspect of the Sun in a woman's chart or of the Moon in a man's chart to the planet Uranus tends toward unconventional conduct. It is the freedom planet, and its individualism expresses thus in relation to the opposite sex. Any aspect of the Sun in a woman's chart or of the Moon in a man's chart to Neptune tends to a peculiar unrealizable idealism regarding the opposite sex. Neptune in the 7th is not suddenly disruptive, as is Uranus, but the partner is given imaginary qualities which the realities of life do not permit of fulfillment. The partner may be strangely afflicted, the one desired may already be married, a queer slow process of estrangement may occur, or some involved condition develop which leads to an unsatisfactory married experience."

The Affections

"AFFECTIONS—The strength, importance and success of the affections in general, without reference specifically to the marriage partner, children, relatives, or friends is to be judged from the planet Venus. The affections are important in the life and powerful to the extent that the planet Venus is prominent. Their general satisfaction, or lack of it, is indicated by the aspects Venus receives. And these aspects, by the house positions of the planets making them and the house position of Venus, indicate what things conduce to, or detract from, affectional success, and in what manner."

Delineating the Horoscope – C. C. Zain

The 5th House

The 5th house with its power, harmony or discord determines in general our interest in lovemaking and our love affairs, whether or not they result in partnership

"The thoughts, feelings, impulses and emotions relating to the love embrace and to other pleasures have been built into the compartment of the individual's astral body mapped by the 5th house. What will be attracted to him relating to pleasures and the love embrace, therefore, must be judged from the 5th house. And to the extent this relation is a factor of importance in marriage the 5th house conduces to or detracts from the marital happiness."

The Importance of Compatible Elements

The Elements of Fire, Earth, Air, and Water contribute to our temperament

Fire and Air are masculine and considered to be compatible

Earth and Water are feminine and considered compatible

Fire

♈ - Aries

♌ - Leo

♐ - Sagittarius

Keywords: authoritative, eager, enthusiastic, energetic, fervent, lively, inspirational, passionate, vigorous, vital.

A person in whom yellow bile predominates is said to be choleric, from the Greek khole for bile. The humor of Yellow Bile, associated with the spleen and the hot and dry element Fire.

Earth

♉ - Taurus

♍ - Virgo

♏ - Capricorn

Keywords: down-to-earth, level-headed, matter-of-fact, practical, pragmatic, realistic, sensible, utilitarian.

A person in whom black bile predominates is said to be melancholic, from the Greek melas meaning black, and khole for bile. The humor of Black Bile, associated with the gall bladder and with the cold and dry element, Earth.

Air

♊ - Gemini

♎ - Libra

♒ - Aquarius

Keywords: chatty, communicative, ideological, intellectual, mental, out-going, talkative, social, communal.

A person in whom blood predominates is said to be sanguine, from the Latin sanguis for blood. The humor of Blood is associated with the liver and with the hot and moist element of Air.

Water

♋ - Cancer

♏ - Scorpio

♓ - Pisces

Keywords: caring, compassionate, empathetic, emotional, intuitive, moody, receptive, sensitive.

A person in whom phlegm predominates is said to be phlegmatic, from the Greek phlegmatikos meaning abounding in phlegm. The humor of Phlegm, is associated with the lungs and brain and the cold and moist element of Water.

The dominance of any element can be compared between charts

The Astrodynamic Summary provides valuable insights

“To the extent electromagnetic energies have a similar vibratory quality they the more readily fuse and blend. The magnetism of watery signs blends best with the magnetism of watery signs. It also blends in less degree with the magnetism of earthy signs; but will no more blend with the magnetism of fiery signs than oil will blend with water. Magnetism of the fiery signs blends most readily with that of fiery signs. It blends somewhat with that of the airy signs; but refuses to unite with the magnetism of the earthly signs.”

Delineating the Horoscope – C. C. Zain

“For harmony in marriage the first consideration is that the etheric vibrations, as shown chiefly by the First House and the Moon should be similar. If markedly dissimilar their energies will not fuse, they will not get in complete rapport, and both will experience a constant feeling of unrest and dissatisfaction. The next consideration should be that both belong to the same planetary family, or at least that the mental trend should be enough alike that they have interests in common. Finally, if both belong to the same state of life, or to complementary states, as shown by the sun signs, it enables them to understand each other's viewpoint, leading to compatibility." Astrological Signatures – C. C. Zain

The Houses in Which the Partner's Planets Fall

"As to the general influence on the various departments of life, of one person when closely associated with another, this can be determined, although subject to many modifications, by considering in which house of the chart of one the planets in the chart of the other fall."

By thus inserting the planets, according to the degree of the zodiac they occupy, from one person's chart into the chart of another, much can be learned of the manner in which any partnership will influence the life of each."

The Importance of Planets, Within One Degree of Aspect

Aspects show the details and idiosyncrasies of our relationships

Venus and Mars ♀♂

Venus and Mars are the planets of love and sex

Venus expresses as affection

Mars expresses as passion or lust

Venus and Mars in compatible elements can add to attraction between two persons

Harmonious aspects between Venus and Mars can attract and compel

Discordant aspects between Venus and Mars may initially attract, then repel

RELATIONS WITH MEN OR WOMEN

The Sun, his power and harmony determine the type of relationship one has with men.

The Moon, her power and harmony determines one's general relationships with women.

"The kind of energy she thus receives from men, as well as the influence of men in general upon her life, is determined by the stellar cells mapped by the Sun in her birth chart. If the Sun is well aspected she will attract to herself, because the thought cells relating to the opposite sex are harmonious, favors and fortune from men. But if the Sun is afflicted, it indicates that the thought cells relating to the opposite sex are inharmoniously compounded, and she will attract misfortune from men accordingly."

Delineating the Horoscope – C. C. Zain

"The kind of energy he thus receives from women, as well as the influence of women in general upon his life, is determined by the manner in which the stellar cells within his astral body mapped in the birth chart by the Moon are compounded. If the Moon is afflicted by aspect, women in general prove a detriment such as the aspect indicates. But if the Moon receives good aspects it reveals that the thought compounds built of his experiences with the opposite sex are harmonious, and that women will favor and assist him."

Delineating the Horoscope – C. C. Zain

Attracting a Mate

"Courtship is difficult when the ruler of the fifth house or the ruler of the seventh house is afflicted by progressed aspect, but when either of these planets receives good progressed aspects, when Venus makes favorable progressed aspects, and when the Moon in a man's chart, or the Sun in a woman's chart, makes harmonious progressed aspects, such matters move forward nicely."

"Attracting a mate, as well as holding one after marriage, should not be left to chance. It is a matter of enough importance to warrant intelligent effort of the highest type. After you are convinced that a certain eligible person is suitable and desirable, the next thing to do is to gather as much information about the inclinations, tastes, and ambitions of this individual as possible. With this knowledge you are prepared for the attempt to win love, respect and devotion.”

The one thing that should ever be remembered in this effort is that PLEASURE IS ATTRACTIVE AND PAIN IS REPELLENT. People are attracted to each other only because they find pleasure in each other's company. But all people do not find pleasure in the same things. Even a little strife and opposition is more pleasurable to some than entirely smooth sailing. The joys of making up may even at times compensate for a quarrel. One thing, however, is quite universal. No one wants what is too easy to get. The rare, the unusual, the difficult to procure excite desire for possession. Nor does the normal individual desire another who is a “doormat.”

When to Marry

“From merely a comparison of the birth charts of a man and a woman it cannot be determined whether or not they can make a success of marriage. All that can thus be ascertained is to what extent the fundamental harmonies are present between them which promote marital happiness.”
Delineating the Horoscope – C. C. Zain

“In an afflicted chart, conditioning by environment since birth may have developed complexes or fixations that make it impossible for its owner to make a success of marriage with anyone. But statistical studies show that while an individual is under harmonious progressed aspects he is unlikely to be attracted toward marrying an individual with such a complex or fixation, or who is otherwise so constituted that he cannot get along successfully with anyone in marriage.”

Delineating the Horoscope – C. C. Zain

Major Progressions of the Moon

“The major progressed Moon moves through all twelve houses and makes all possible aspects to the other planets in 27.3 years. Because its thought-cells are so open an avenue for energy, its passage through each house in turn, averaging less than two and a half years, tends to bring the things signified by the department of life ruled by the house it is in at the time to the fore...”

C. C. Zain - CS X-2 Natal Astrology: Progressing the Horoscope page 71

“...In some manner the popularity is apt to be affected by aspects involving the Moon. As it relates to the Mentality, the temporary mood is indicated by the planet to which it makes a progressed aspect.”

C. C. Zain - CS X-2 Natal Astrology: Progressing the Horoscope page 71

Major Progressed Aspects of Moon Attract Only Sub-Major Events

“Because long observation indicates that on the average a progressed aspect made by the Moon attracts an event only 1/7 as important as that attracted by a similar progressed aspect made by one of the other eleven positions, it is customary to designate major progressed aspects made by the Moon as sub-major progressed aspects. Progressed aspects made by any of the other eleven positions to birth chart Moon, however, are on the average as powerful to attract events as those made to other birth chart planets.”
