People, also, born under the movable signs, are active, energetic, and given to change; even as gas generates power and finds it easy to move in various directions little hindered by gravitation. They break the trails that others follow, and start the enterprises that others finish. The natives of Aries pioneer in daring enterprises and adventure. Cancer people pioneer in home building and in foods. Matter in the solid state is rigid, durable, and unyielding. People born under the fixed signs are quite as unbending, firm, and resistant. Solids find difficulty in altering their form and location; and people belonging to the fixed signs are strongly attached to their customary environment, their customary manner of doing things, and their customary methods of thought. They have great resistance to pressure of all kinds, strong endurance, plodding perseverance and the ability to give close attention to detail. They are not originators, and not enthusiastic developers; but when development has reached a high degree, they work out details that constitute improvements. The signs of the fixed quality produce people who are PERFECTERS.”

- ♊ - Gemini
- ♍ - Virgo
- ♐ - Sagittarius
- ♓ - Pisces
- Keywords: adaptable, adaptors, appeasing, assuaging, conciliatory, flexible, middle-men, mollifying.
- “The signs of the Mutable Quality are Gemini, Virgo, Sagittarius, and Pisces. They express the nature of each of the four elements in a medium state of activity. Matter in the liquid state, though possessing the same chemical elements as when gaseous or solid, is more subject to gravitation and less aggressive in its chemical action than when gaseous; but more active and yielding, and less given to permanence than when in the solid state. The mutable signs are a happy medium between the excessive activity of the movable signs and the stubborn resistance of the fixed signs. Liquid cannot force its way through an aperture as easily as can gas, but once a channel has been established it quickly follows the line of least resistance. People born under the mutable signs seldom break trails, but follow on the heels of the pioneers. As liquid conforms to the object with which it is in contact, so mutable people are the most adaptable of all. The signs of the mutable quality produce people who seldom originate an enterprise. They are the DEVELOPERS.”
- Astrological Signatures – C. C. Zain
- Individuals in whom the mutable quality dominates tend to be conciliatory and agreeable. They are able to blend ideas from different disciplines and create hybrids. Often they will run with the ideas of others.
